

Arpit Chaturvedi

Arpit Chaturvedi is a Public Policy, Strategy, and Sustainability Professional. He holds an MPA degree from Cornell University, USA and an MBA from India. He heads Insights International - a policy research, advocacy, geopolitical risks, and communications firm. He also heads Global Policy Insights a centrist thinktank based in India, the UK, and the USA.

AC2647@CORNELL.EDU

ARPIT@GLOBALPOLICYINSIGHTS.ORG

Arpit Chaturvedi is the Founder of Insights International – a policy research, advocacy, geopolitical risks, and communications organization headquartered in New Delhi, India.

He is also the Co-Founder and Chief Executive Officer of Global Policy Insights (GPI) – a centrist thinktank focused on Governance, International Political Economy, International Security Studies and Sustainability, based out of New Delhi, New York, and London.

He is the Joint-Director of the Global Policy, Diplomacy, and Sustainability Fellowship and serves as a Co-Chair on various international affairs forums such as the QUAD Security Forum. He also serves as an Advisor at the Kyiv School of Diplomatic Arts. He is also the Director of the India Centre of the Behavioral International Economic Development (BIED) Society a premier international think-tank based in Washington DC.

Arpit also serves as the Research Manager to Dr. Kaushik Basu (Former Chief Economist, World Bank & Former Chief Economist India; Carl C. Marks Professor of International Studies, Department of Economics and SC Johnson College of Business, Cornell University).

In 2023, Arpit will also be serving as Adjunct Professor for Health Policy at the Chicago Adler University, USA.

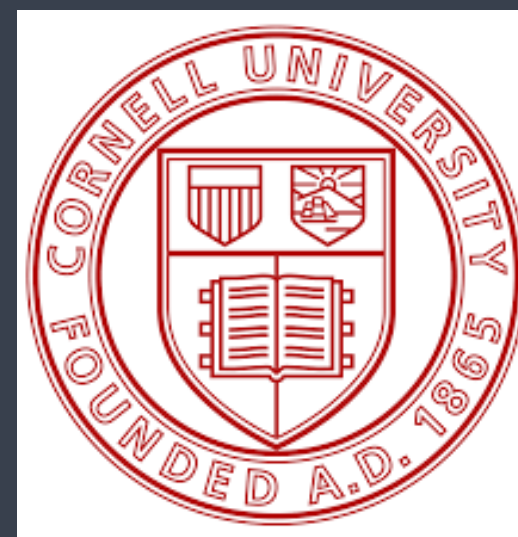

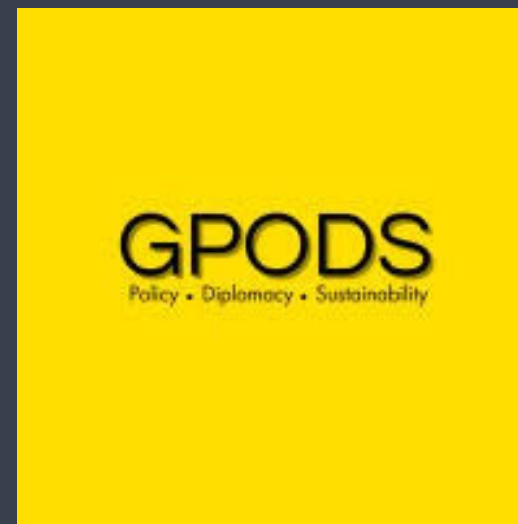

He has been a Lecturer at the San Francisco State University where he taught a graduate-level course on Comparative Perspectives in Public Administration. He serves as the Director, and Faculty of Comparative Public Administration at the Global Policy, Diplomacy, and Sustainability (GPODS) Fellowship. He was also part of the founding academic team of the Indian School of Public Policy where he served as an Instructor of Public Policy and the founding Academic Coordinator.

A graduate of the Cornell Institute for Public Affairs, Arpit holds an MPA degree with a focus on Governance, Politics, and Policy Studies. He was awarded membership of Pi Alpha Alpha for extraordinary scholarship in the field of public administration. He was also the first non-US citizen to hold the position of the Editor-in-Chief of the Cornell Policy Review. He was the recipient of the Cornell Celebr (ASIAN) International Student Award (2018) for outstanding achievements as a graduate student (primarily for his writings).

Arpit also holds an MBA in Human Resource Management from Symbiosis Centre for Management and Human Resource Development and a Bachelor of Arts with Honours in History from Kirori Mal College, Delhi University.

WEBSITES:
WWW.ARPITCHATURVEDI.COM
WWW.INSIGHTSINT.ORG
WWW.GLOBALPOLICYINSIGHTS.ORG WWW.GPODS.ORG
WWW.IWIR.ORG
WWW.QUADFORUM.NET

INSIGHTS INTERNATIONAL

AC2647@CORNELL.EDU

ARPIT@GLOBALPOLICYINSIGHTS.ORG